LAST WEEK'S RUN No. 281 JIM HUGHES

Hughes' views of Shatin Valley proved a much more enjoyable outing than our last foray to the New Territories. Starting from Jim's office at Shatin District Office -- an ideal spot for Hashing, but who wants to work there? -- the pack soon bedevilled itself with its own cleverness at the first check. While Hash Cash (for once) Jon Hundloe and others found the right trail, the rest of the pack followed a false trail that may or may not have been laid by the Hare. Anyway, by the time the pack scented the trail, the front-runners were still enmeshed in a maze of paths, bridges, gardens and assorted shiggy, so the pack was reasonably held together by the time open country was reached -- about 600 ft up! Some good open running -- alas for only too short a time -- then a deep downward slither, hop step and jump down, down, down steps and slopes to Shatin Village. There the front-runners encountered a train at the station, but this proved no obstacle for a Kowloon Hashman -- one of the very few who joined us -- as he went through one carriage door and out by the other to keep on the trail! A mile of diesel along the main Taipo road thoroughly drained any energy before we hit the beer wagon at the top of a rise. The many who stayed away missed a good run, spot on one hour long. A good effort by Jim, too, in laying a trail despite two thunderstorms. About half the pack went On On to the Man Wah in Chung King Mansions.

KOTA KINABALU TRIP -- September 20 to 24 -- $1350. Bookings must now be confirmed with a $200 non-refundable deposit paid to Hash Cash soonest.

MACAU RUN -- For the stay-at-homes a Coloane run will be held the same weekend. Overnight accommodation with whisky loving priest for 20-30 Hashmen (no wives, no Poofsters). Others may find alternative beds in Macau. Saturday night -- nosh and knickers. Sunday morning run. Home Sunday afternoon.

LH3 -- 200th run -- August 4 -- Joint run with LH3 and Kowloon Hash.

MEMBERSHIP is now closed as numbers exceed 150. Applicants on waiting list by order are: Chad Hawley, Peter Duncan, Paul Douglas, Richard Russell, Robin Howes, Dave Kendall, Andy Nattress, John Wetzler, Peter Pearson and Tom Brown.

HASH TRASH -- Continuing Angove's Irish stew -- The Belfast lesbians hate the ceasefire -- they've run out of rubber bullets. Anyway now they're buying organs -- to play him.

Brain Angove is off to California on a course. "I'll be buggered," he said when his boss told him. "Only if you stay in San Francisco" was the reply.

Jim Hughes wound up under the table when he was with a bar girl after the On On. Not drunk, mind you, just window shopping.

I liked these adjacent headlines in the Post: "Making of a Grandmaster" -- "Beasties in the Park". Tell us more, Jack.

When Brain Angove said to his boss, "I'll be buggered" he really meant he was taken
