

HASH HORN - Harry Giddings
BEER WAGON - P.Y. Chau 3-622201

HONGKONG HASH HOUSE HARRIERS
BOX 20289, HENNESSEY ROAD POST OFFICE
HONGKONG

GRAND MASTER -- Pat Donoghue 5-273924
JOINT MASTER -- Craig Sim 3-828225
JOINT MASTER -- Barry Will 5-468161 Ext 264
ON SEC -- Nick Brook 5-252161 Ext 182
HASH CASH -- Frank Tainsh 5-246121
HASH PENIST -- Jim Mac-the-Knife Elmore

NEXT WEEK'S RUN:

No.333

Coach leaves Queen's Pier at 5.45 for Tsing
Yi Bridge (far end) start at 6.45. Hares supplied by KH3, who will be running from Wanchai Gap at 7. MONDAY, June 7.

LAST WEEK'S RUN: No.332

All round that was one of the best Hashes for months. At the On-On the hounds performed with a gusto that suggests there is something about Sandy Neill country that dehydrates the throat, inflames the libido and unhinges the mind. The run by Hares Holgate and Shillinglaw was highly entertaining, very well-mixed and the checks uniquely effective. Front runners found themselves at the back over and over again and from all accounts the grin on Neville White's face as he emerged onto the main road near Chunghomkok in second place was something to behold.

It was near epic hashing. Sandy Neill, true to form, loused everything up in comical style. Starting late he decided to run the trail in reverse the headed up through the villages and through the shiggy to Chunghomkok Road and up into the hills. Unbeknownst to him, meanwhile, the hares were driving back along the main road after checking out the Ping Shan. Brian Holgate takes up the story: "This curly headed yank in a flaming red shirt comes stumbling up the main road, limping, one sock down, head lolling -- the picture of a thoroughly shagged SCB. Suddenly he notices three arrows on the road. He stares at them for an upcomprehending moment. Then jerks into life, throws his head up, yells 'On On!' and bolts. He went up that road like a rocket ...no sign of a limp whatsoever."

That was John Rekrap, who finding his new lease of life, flashing up the hill revelling in his moment of glory ... only to run into Sandy Neill. Sandy sculking around in the bushes sees Rekrap hareing towards him and decides Rekrap has built up too much of a lead for himself. So Sandy rubs out the check and races off round the catchment in the wrong direction yelling "On On Onnnnn". Round the bend, Neill dives into the bushes and sits there grinning to himself as Rekrap goes bounding enthusiastically past. That was the last we saw of Rekrap (Parker backwards; his way of introducing himself).

The On-On at the Ping Shan and later at the Stanley Club might have been the best since we were last in Stanley. Jeff Pritchard established two firsts: He brought a snake (dead) to the restaurant and shouted whisky all around. Last week he was responsible for another first. He took a bird along to the run, a gorgeous British Airways stewardess who sat side-saddle on his motorcycle and watched us drolling into the beer.

After setting three firsts in two weeks, Dave Barnett is convinced Pritchard is running for Grandmaster and has formed what he calls the ABP Movement.

The singing department at the Ping Shan was well represented by the aforementioned Rekrap, Hare Shillinglaw and John Stuart who closed with the Ricky-Ran-Do song, something he has spared us from since we were last in Stanley.

A hardy bunch of Hashmen then headed off to the Stanley Club. On the way two convoys passed each other: Harvie and Holgate (poor show for a hare, Brian) and Mallee and Co heading home from the Stanley Club and your true Alcohashmen going the other direction for a few more frosties.

HARESHOOWILL:

334 June 14 Charles Harvie and Jack Mallee
335 June 21 Tom Hazeldine and Philip Stratton
336 June 28 Lawrence Attewill and Scott Heathington
337 July 5 Kowloon

TAIPEI TRIP:

Contact Ian Polson if you want to go (5-95751 or 761461). $1,000 covers fare, accommodation and sightseeing. Departing evening of June30 and returning the following Sunday.

GLOSSARY OF HASH TERMS: (Compliments of Canberra Hash, abridged)