✱One day a boy comes home early from school, unaware that his parents are having a quick one. His father comes out, not realizing that he still has a duxen on. "What are you doing, Dad?" asks the boy. "I'm looking for a mouse," says his father. The boy gives him a puzzled look, "Are you going to screw it?"

RUN NO. 519

Rather like masturbating in public I thought it was terrific but everyone else thought it was disgusting. The classic error of a major check in a noisy resettlement area where anyone 20 yards away from the trail had no chance of hearing the strangled cries of 'On On'. No marks for the Hares conservationist attitude to chalk. A box of chalk is not meant to survive a decade of hashing. Apart from the two unforgivable errors the run was interesting well planned and the right length. Cameron Knight and Nils Borglum are planning to finish next week's run in under 2 hours.

Dr. Livingstone from Brunei created a satirical high rivalling Pluckrose's 20 year old sneakers but running naked from the knees down. Everybody's favourite Trailmaster warns future hares to watch out for other Hushes chalk marks. With the prospect of no rain for the next 2 months Hong Kong Island will become one great trail.

Is this Which Hashman? Or is it Wallbanger?

Charles Harvie: Recently fulfilled his life long ambition of having a year on the piss. Has now managed to fulfill his ambition for 18 consecutive years. Bruce is a stalwart believer in bollocking scribes, Joint Masters, Grand Masters, Jim Hughes and the ice man for bringing "warm ice". Lays long runs. +2

Roger Medcalf: Spent force, used to fuck up the runs by finding the checks 15 mins before the pack did. Now saving up to get married. -3

Craig Sim: Star Hashman, short cuts without hesitation always back in 45 mins to test the temperature of the goodies. Does not like to sweat, tells old jokes, keeps looking round hopefully for Gibb and Donahue. +5

Worzel Gummidge: Has tried to become serious about life since driving the 747 now farts discreetly in a corner instead of stacking them up near the beer van. In love with Breen and Harvie. -9

ESKIMO NELL

When a man grows old and his balls grow cold,
And the tip of his tool turns blue,
And it bends in the middle like a one-string fiddle,
He can tell you a tale or two.
So pull up a chair, and stand me a drink,
And a tale to you I'll tell,
Of Dead-eye Dick and Mexican Pete,
And a harlot called Eskimo Nell.

When Dead-eye Dick and Mexican Pete,
Go forth in search of fun,
It's Dead-eye Dick that slings the prick,
And Mexican Pete the gun.

When Dead-eye Dick and Mexican Pete,

Are sore, depressed and sad,
It's always a cunt that bears the brunt,
But the shooting ain't so bad.

Now Dead-eye Dick and Mexican Pete,
Lived down by Dead Man's Creek,
And such was their luck that they'd had no fuck,
For nigh on half a week.

Just a moose or two and a caribou,
And a bison cow, or so,
And for Dead-eye Dick with his kingly prick,
This was mightily slow.

So do or dare, this horny pair,
Set forth for the Rio Grande.
Dead-eye Dick with his mighty prick,
And Pete with his gun in his hand.
And as they blazed their noisy trail,
No man their path withstood,
And many a bride, her husband's pride,
A pregnant widow stood.

They reached the strand of the Rio Grande,
At the height of the blazing noon,
And to slake their thirst and do their worst,
They sought Black Mike's Saloon.
And as they pushed the great doors wide,
Both prick and gun flashed free,
"According to sex, you bleeding wrecks,
You'll drink or fuck with me."

They'd heard of the prick of Dead-eye Dick,
From Maine to Panama,
And with scarcely worse than a muttered curse,
Those Dagos sought the bar.

The girls too knew his playful ways,
Down on the Rio Grande,
And forty whores pulled down their drawers,
At Dead-eye Dick's command.
They saw the fingers of Mexican Pete,
Itch on the trigger grip,
And they didn't wait; at a fearful rate,
Those whores began to strip.

Now Dead-eye Dick was breathing quick,
With lecherous snorts and grunts,

"Where'd you get the mink?" asked Cheryl.

"Oh," answered Madge. "This real smooth executive type picked me up in a cocktail lounge, took me to dinner and a show, and then we went to his apartment. After we'd had some Courvoisier he opened a huge closet, and there were a bunch of full-length minks, and he said, 'Pick one out.'"

"And you didn't have to do anything?" asked Cheryl.

"Well," said Madge, "naturally, I had to take it up about six inches."

"I had to take it up about six inches!"

I've spent enough on you to buy a battleship!" the admiral said to his mistress during a tiff.

"And you've spent enough in me to float one!" she retorted.

Q. How do you find an old hashman in the dark?
 A. Just feel around - it won't be hard!

"I decided we'd wear costumes that reflect our personalities. George has always been a large clitoris, if you know what I mean."

A wife complained to the doctor that her husband had not made love to her for three months, so he gave her a pill to put in her husband's coffee. The next time the doctor saw her she said: "That pill was marvellous, he just cleared the table and made love to me on the spot." "Good" said the doctor. "I don't suppose you minded a few broken cups and saucers then?" "No," said the wife. "But we're not going back to that restaurant again."

"Bullshit. You said you had a headache last night!"

The geezer awoke in the middle of the night, and much to his surprise found that for the first time in two years he was hard as a rock and ready for action. With a twinkle in his eye he nudged his wife and, drawing back the covers, asked, "You see that, Ma? What you figure we ought to do about it?"

Sleepily the old woman replied, "Now that you got all the wrinkles out, it might be a good time to wash it."

"Those don't seem to be working.
I'm going to have to give you a real Oriental prick."

Remember the Polish woman who thought Moby
Dick was a venereal disease?

She also thought asphalt was a proctological condition and that ping-pong balls were a venereal disease from China.

What does a Polish girl do after she sucks cock?
Spits out the feathers.
